The dinner will begin at 7:30, with a no-host get together festivity starting at 6:30.

Past presidents of the CBA will discuss the past, present and future of Carmel.

Reservations must be made by Feb. 17 with Harriet Mayer, CBA executive secretary. Her phone number is 624-2522, or secure a reservation blank from any CBA member.

First new members of the business group for 1970 were Hartvig Associates, advertising, public relations and sales promotion, and Hallmark-Cards, Candles and Things, which will open on March 1 on Ocean Avenue.

Auxiliary gives $101,701 check to Hospital

A $101,701 check for the building fund of Community Hospital was presented yesterday by the Auxiliary of Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula.

Dr. A. Carol McKenney, president of the Board of Trustees, accepted the check in behalf of the hospital from Barbara Haber, outgoing president of the Auxiliary.

The presentation of the check, which fulfilled a pledge made three years ago, was at the annual meeting of the Pink Ladies held at Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Two hundred and seventy active and associate members and guests were present.

In addition to the $101,701 check, it was announced that the Auxiliary had purchased fpr the hospital a $17,500 communication system linking the hospital by radio to other hospitals, ambulances and emeergency vehicles as wekk as providing internal radio communication with key personnel who carry miniaturized radio receivers.

During the meeting, Mrs. Jack Westland was installed as president of the Auxiliary.

After accepting the check from the Auxiliary, Dr. McKenney lauded the Pink Ladies for their devotion to the nonprofit hospitals. He priased them for the 49,000 hours of voluntary work at the hospital during 1969.

"You are responsible for the reputation and respect with which Community Hospital is recognized," Dr. McKenney said.

Thomas E. Tonkin, administrator of the hospital, thanked the members for their work. He said the service they had rendered was beyond measure, but the time volunteered was the equivalent of a 25 full-time employees.

Guest speaker Samuel S. Virts of the Research and Development office of Lockheed Hospital Information Services of Sunnyvale.

He said it is going to take technology and behavioral sciences to help solve the national crises in health care and that Auxiliary members can serve as a catalyst for improvement of the system.

IT's ALL HIS FAULT – Every year there's a Crosby Clambake at the three Pebble Beach golf courses. Every year, because of the Crosby Clambake, the weather in the surrounding area becomes a living example of extremes. In an area in which snow never falls, snow falls. Where hurricanes are unknown, there are hurricanes. Where rainfall is mild and gentle, rainfall turns to torrents leaking from the sky. All because of the Crosby. And we wouldn't have it any other way. It's that always unusual weather that makes the Clambake unique among golf tournaments. So, pensive Harry Lillis Crosby, please bring your Clambake back for the 30th time next January. We'll all be waiting in our foul-weather clothes.

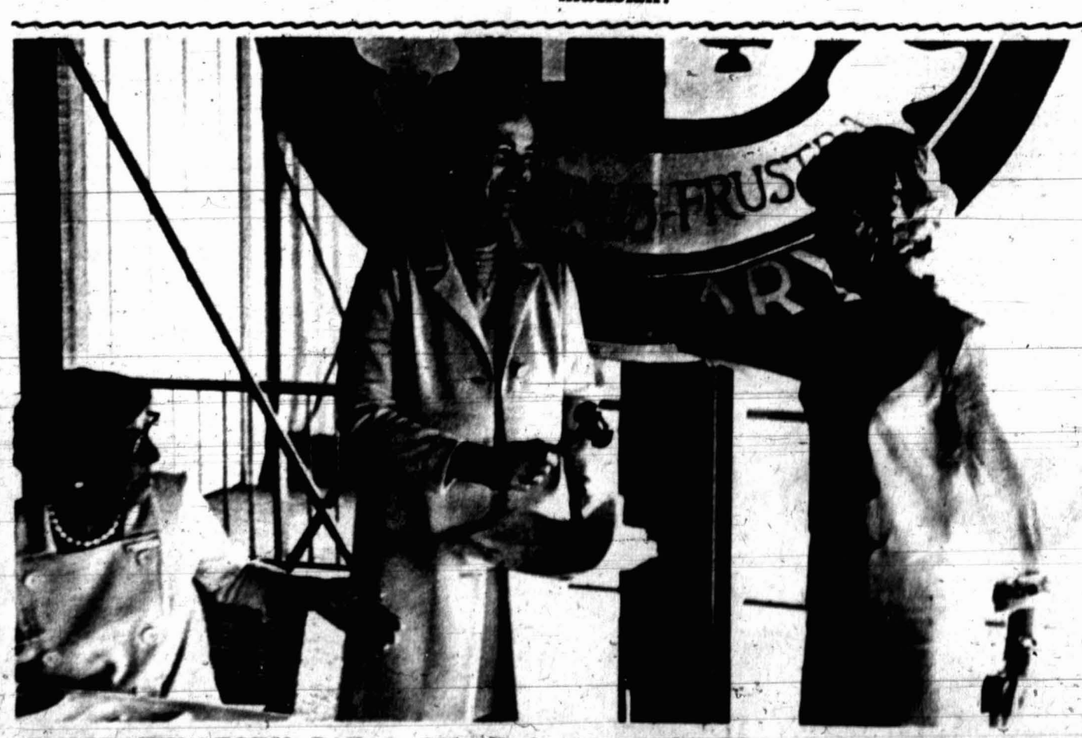
HIDDEN TALENT – Everyone does something well that the world just hasn't gotten around to recognizing as yet. Ted Durein, managing editor of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, is a many of many talents – newsman, author, humorist, wearer of outlandish Mexican hats and a leading figure in community event. He is the major cause of the Crosby Clambake being held at Pebble Beach. And just last week he was named Monterey Peninsula's "Outstanding Citizen of 1969" by the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce. A signal honor for the man who has done much for the community. So how come no one recognizes Ted Durein's outstanding talent as a musician?

BUILDING FUND – Barbara Haber, outgoing president of the Auxiliary of Community Hospital, is shown after presenting a $101,701 check for the building fund, to Dr. A. Carol McKenney, president of the Board of Trustees of Community Hospital. The check fulfilled a pledge made in 1967 by the Auxiliary.



CONGRATULATORY PAT – Mrs. Jack Westland, incoming president of the Auxiliary of Community Hospital, is congratulated by outgoing president Barbara Haber (right). Seated is Bea Earnshaw who was in charge of the annual luncheon held at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

Carmel Citizens Committee holds annual meet Jan. 24

The annual Town Meeting of the CArmel Citizens Committee will be held at the Parish Hall of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Dolores & 9th, Carmel, on Wednesday, Jan. 28 at 7:30 p.m., according to C.W. Fisher, president of the Citizens Committee.

The main topic on the agenda will be a discussion of the pollution and sewage problem in Carmel and the surrounding area. The Carmel Sanitary District will have a representative present to discuss the present situation and to outline the District's plan to up-date the present facilities to meet the presentt and future needs of the District.

"Sewage disposal in this area must be improved as soon as possible," Admiral Fisher said. "It is shocking to realize that our beautiful Carmel Bay is so polluted that it was necessary to have it posted as unfir for water sports last summer. The problem must be brought under control without delay."

"Our Board of Directors have been award of the growing menace of water pollution for some time and are prepared to make positive recommendations to our members on Wednesday as to what should be done to correct the present unsatisfactory situation."

"We know it will cost money – and lots of it. We also know that if we don't act now it may be too late," Admiral Fisher stated.

The Carmel Citizens Committee has been concerned with preserving the natuarl beauty and charm of Carmel since its founding by Admiral Fisher many years ago. It has been a leader in the fight to limit the height and bulk of buildings, the preservation of the beach and trees, and the limiting of chain-store operations of business and motels in Carmel.

The Committee was also active in arousing the people of the Monterey Peninsula to the danger of three major threats to the local environment and living space.

The first was the exclusion of a major oil refinery at Moss Landing proposed by the Humbolt Oil Company. Such a refinery, in the opinion of many experts, would damage not only the Monterey Bay area but would also seriously affect the agricultural production in the Salinas Valley.

The Committee took a prominent role in efforts to eliminate the noxious emissions from the Moss Landing plant of P.G.& E. The Committee was also active in securing legislation in Sacramento heading off oil prospecting in Monterey Bay.

NEW V.P. – E. L. Van Dellen of Pebble Beach and San Francisco was recently elected by Western Pacific Railroad's Board of director's to the newly created position of vice president-law, President M. M. Christy announced this week. Van Dellen became an attorney for the railroad in 1948. Since then he has been promoted to commerce attorney, general attorney, general counsel and in 1963 to vice president and general counsel. He and his wife Molly are members of the Beach Club and Tennis Club in Pebble Beach.

Bicentennial news

Carnes Tolendas

On Feb. 7 and 8, a tradition created during Monterey's early history and carried on by the Monterey Civic Club, will be relived in all its 19th century glory.

This is the Pre-Lenten festival sponsored by the Monterey Civic Club and known as "Carnes Tolendas" or carnival.

As in the last century, the Alcalde of Monterey read a proclamation of the festival to open the season. In keeping with this tradition, on Saturday, Feb. 7 at 10 a.m., Mayor Al Madden will read a proclamation on the steps of Colton Hall declaring the Carnes Tolendas festival is open. The public is invited.

That evening Senoras and Senoritas will dress in their gayest, brighest and most beautiful costumes and agtend "El Baile de Los Cascarones" at the Naval Postgraduate School (Invitation Only.) A colorful Mariachi band will play for cocktails, followed by dinner, a grand march at 9, and dancing to Neil Armstrong's band until 2 a.m.

On Sunday, Feb. 8, from 10 to 5, there will be team roping, hide races and barrel riding competition in the arena at the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

And in downtown Monterey, an old fashioned parade will begin at 12:30, consisting of horses, wagons, stage coaches, buggies, donkeys (no motorized units) and people in costumes circa 1870.

Following the parade, a chicken barbecue will be served at the Fairgrounds. Adults will receive ½ chicken, baked beans, salad and French bread.

Barbecue tickets may be purchased ahead by calling the Fairgrounds or the Bicentennial office. Pony rides will be available for the children, plus cotton candy, peanuts, popcorn and free entertainment. Free admission to the Fairgrounds – Arena events also free to the public.

Anyone wishing to enter the parade or sports events, which include team roping, hide races and barrel racing, please call or write Old Monterey Bicentennial, 539 Hartnell Street, Monterey, Ca. 93940. Telephone 408-372-1970.

The judging will be done by professional judges.

MPC to receive $51,000 for EOP

Monterey Peninsula College will receive $51,735 in state funds for continuance and expansion of its Extended Opportunity Program for disadvantaged students.

Only 37 of California's 92 community colleges were awarded such funds. Of the 37, MPC ranked 16th in a total package of $2,679,641 which saw Los Angeles City College with the top grant of $358,400 and Mt. San Jacinto College with the smallest – $9,975.

In setting the priorities, a Community Colleges Board of Governors staff worked with an advisory committee created by a bill authored by Senator Alfred E. Alquist of San Jose and signed by Governor Reagan.

MPC grade system enters second semester Feb. 2

When Monterey Peninsula College enters its spring, 1970, semester Feb. 2, it will also be commencing its second semester of credit/no credit grading.

Beginning with the fall, 1969, semester, students were given an option, in many courses, of receiving either a letter grade, credit or no/credit grade only, or a letter or credit/no credit grade.

Dr. Jack Bessire, MPC dean of student personnel, describes the system as designed to "take the rigidity out of the program.

"The advantage of not getting a letter grade is that it allows a student to explor a field of study without worrying about meeting arbitrary grading standards and lowering his grade point average if he should fail," Bessire said.

"It also meets the criticism – a pretty valid one, we think – that many students go to college just to get grades. The credit /no credit system shifts the emphasis to learning."

What about transferring to the state colleges and universities with non-letter grades? "We don't recommend that students elect credit/no credit in their major subjects when they plan to transfer. However, the state colleges accept our certification that a student has met his general education requirements.

More Crosby party plans

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Dirickson have houseguests this tournament week. They are Dawn and George Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Van Gerbig of Palm Beach. Mrs. Van Gerbig is the former Victoria Fairbanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

Last Wednesday the Colemans were entertained at a dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts Jr. of Pebble Beach.

The George McMahans, the Robert McMahans and the Charles Kramers all of Pebble Beach, are continuing an eight year tradition of party entertaining this week.

On Thursday, the group and their houseguests will be entertained at a dinner party at the house of the Robert McMahans. Friday, the George McMahans will play host and on Saturday, the party goes to the Kramers for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. George McMahans are welcoming the Brenton Bradfords of Fresno, as houseguests during the week.

Leonard Firestone's daughter, Mrs. Samuel Register, is here for the tournament as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Firestone.

The Justin Darts have arrived to occupy their Pebble Beach home during the Crosby.

Mrs. S.F.B. Morse is home for the tournament from Berlin and Aime G. Michaud has returned from Mexico where he was the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Pagliai.

Friday is party night for the Loris di Grazias of San Francisco who will entertain a large gathering at the Beach and Tennis Club.

Monthly tea for members of French group

The monthly French conversation-tea of the Alliance Francaise will be held this month at the Pebble Beach home of Mrs. Richard Cooksey.

Co-hostess will be Mrs. Fredrick Coltrin. Hospitality chairman, Mrs. Edward Hogan, home from vacation in France will also assist at the tea.

For reservations and information telephone Mrs. J. Salinger Carlson at 624-3195.

Choral Society registration

The Monterey Peninsula Choral Society will hold its second semester registration at 7 p.m. at Fremont Junior High School, Wed. Jan. 28.

The group is listed as an adult class with the Monterey Unified School District.

The choral society was formed as a non-profit organization in 1965. They are a "performing" group of dedicated local singers whose repertoire includes outstanding choral works such as Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" and Handel's "Messiah."

In October they will perform Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis" at Carmel Mission Basilica under the baton of Haymo Taeuber. The performance will be a part of the Bicentennial celebration and in honor of Beethoven's 200th birthday.

The choral society rehearses every Wednesday evening at Fremont Junior High School from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

For additional information, write the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society, Box 272, Carmel, or call Mrs. Violet Beahan at 624-2838.

DONALD TEAGUE

A surprise for Donald Teague

Hilary and Linda Teague, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Teague of Carmel, treated their parents to dinner during the New Year holidays. The restaurant they chose was Le Tour d'Argent – in Paris.

Don Teague, noted Carmel artist, described the experience as " . . . a stupendous idea. I was flattered and pleased and the trip was perfection itself."

Before going to Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Teague spent some time in England where they enjoyed a traditional Christmas dinner at Brown's, one of London's famous old hotels.

They saw several shows in London, too, including "Promises, Promises," "Play It Again, Sam," with Dudley Moore and "The Magistrate," a period piece starring Alastair Sim.

After dinner in Paris, Hilary and Linda returned to their jobs, and the Teague's flew home after an enjoyable and unforgettable trip.

Navy wives meet

The techniques of picture framing will be discussed at a program planned by the ordinance engineering wives on Jan. 28 in the El Rancho and El Prado Rooms of the Naval Postgraduate School.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Provence of Omni Frame Company will explain how to make prints look their best with ready-made frames.

A mini frame and $20 gift certificate will be offered as doorprizes.

Wives of new students will be honored at a Welcome Aboard coffee, Wednesday evening, Jan. 21 at 8 p.m. in the El Prado Room of the Officer's Club.

A Welcome Aboard skit and an information panel discussion will also be presented.

Newcomers to the Postgraduate School who wish to attend the Welcome Aboard party Wednesday night may call the chairman, Mrs. Larry Rasmussen at 375-9241 for information.

ROBERT J. RIGNEY, JR.
AND JOHANNA LOUISE DE PETRA

Johanna de Petra is a bride

Johanna Louise de Petra became the bride of Robert J. Rigney, Jr. at an 11 a.m. Nuptial Mass at the Carmel Mission Basilica Saturday, Jan. 10. Officiating at the was the Rev. Thomas C. Donlaw, O.P.S.T.D., of Washington, D.C., a long time friend of the groom's family.

Johanna, called Hansy by her friends, is the daughter of Dr. Giulio J. de Petra, chairman of the Army Language School, and Hella B. de Petra of Carmel. She has a brother, Peter.

Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Rigney of Chicago. He has a brother, Thomas Rigney and a sister, Mrs. Thomas McNamara.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length white crocheted gown designed with a high neck and long sleeves. Crocheted flowers "in relief" covered the entire dress. Her shoulder length veil was supported by a band of fresh red roses and pink and white carnations. She carried a nosegay bouquet of the same flowers.

Hansy's sister-in-law, Mrs. Peter M. de Petra, was the bridal attendent. She wore a turquoise crocheted street length dress and a head band of roses and carnations. Her nosegay bouquet matched the one carried by the bride.

Jerome Jacobson of Chicago was the best man. Ushers were Thomas Rigney, the groom's brother and Peter M. de Petra, brother of the bride.

A reception at the Monterey Presidio Officer's Club followed the ceremony. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico and Austria. They will make their home in Berlin, Germany.

Hansy graduated from Santa Catalina and the Dominican College of San Rafael. She majored in French and Spanish and was a stewardess until her marriage.

Robert, a graduate of Loyola College of Chicago, is a pilot for Pan American World Airways.

Cecily Nyeland and Don Butts are betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Aksel Nyeland of Fresno have announced the engagement of their daughter Cecily Nyeland to Donald Cubbison Butts.

Donald, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts of Pebble Beach, attended Cate School and Stanford University. He is a member of the Bachelors of San Francisco and the author of a critical analysis of Australia entitled "Down Under, Up Close" that is due to be released this spring. Donald is associated with his father's automobile business in Monterey.

Cecily is an alumna of Bullard High School. She also attended Fresno Junior College. She has three sisters, Mrs. Michael Newel, Mrs. Lynne Nyeland Finn and Mrs. Gerald L. Walter.

Her grandparents are Mrs. George Campbell Jones of Fresno and the late Mr. Jones.

Donald is the grandson of Mrs. Donald Cubbison of Carmel and the late General Cubbison. He is the brother of Mrs. Tito J. Bianchi of Norfolk, Va. and Jerry Butts of Los Angeles.

The couple plan to wed in Carmel next month.

Zimmerman, Goebel nuptials celebrated at Carmel Mission

Making their home in Monterey after a December wedding at Carmel Mission Basilica are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Randolph Goebel.

The 3 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Felix Migliazzo.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Cypress Room of Carmel's Holiday Inn. Mrs. Mark Tibbetts, the bride's aunt, cut the wedding cake and the cousins of the bride, Geniel and Kelly Torres were in charge of the guest book.

For her wedding, the bride chose a sleeveless empire sheath of Chantilly lace beneath a matching coat. Her elbow length illusion veil was held by a cluster of pearl petals and she carried an orchid and pompon chrysanthemum cascade.

Susan Swanson of Dublin was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Lilian Brewer of Carmel, Mrs. Rudolph Herzog of Monterey and Susan Wright of Carmel Valley.

Debora and Brenda Narvaez of Carmel were junior bridesmaids and Staci and Scott Torres of Canoga Park were flower girl and ring bearer. All are cousins of the bride.

Best man was Richard Hall of Daly City and ushers were Rudolph Herzog of Monterey, Mike Galli, David Galli, and Dan Galli all of San Francisco and the groom's brothers, Dale and Don Goebel.

Out of town guests included the groom's grandparents, Mrs. Otto Goebel of Daly City and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Veach of Kelseyville.

The new Mrs. Goebel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman of Carmel Highlands. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Goebel of Pacific Grove.

Fabulous Fashions

By Ruby Wilkinson

THE GREATEST labor-saving device of today is tomorrow.

Today's fashion is a look, not an age, as all fashion-conscious women, as well as The Rose Brown Shop, know. It is terribly important to move with the times, to remain contemporary, to be aware of what's happening and to forecast. In the late 60's there have been major changes in retailing. Customers are bored stiff with the traditional ways of merchandising. They're not interested in long rows of merchandise lined up by color and size. This you will not find at The Rose Brown Shop. Fashions are hand-picked by the Wilkonsons, and you'll find one-of-a-kind fashions, which may be specially ordered in size and color. The Rose Brown Shop in Carmel Plaza is a collection shop, promoting a total look, head to toe.

Maritime College openings announced by Bob Wood

Assemblyman Bob Wood announced today that there is still time to apply for nomination as candidates for his appointment to the California Maritime Academy.

Under the provisions of the California Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 81 of 1955, each State Senator and State Assemblyman representing an even-numbered district has an appointment available to the Academy for the class entering in August 1970.

From among Assemblyman Wood's nominees, the candidate standing highest among such nominees in the entrance competition, if in all respects qualified, will become the appointee from the 34th Assembly District.

Additional sppointments may be made from among Assemblyman Wood's nominees depending on their relative standings in the general entrance competition and on the number of vacancies.

The State-operated California Maritime Academy is located in Vallejo on the north shore of the Carquinez Strait.

Over a three-year period of residence the Academy trains and educates young men as officers of the American Merchant Marine. The graduate receives his federal license as a Third Officer.

Additionally, in accordance with the provisions of the State of California Education Code, he receives a Bachelor of Science degree in either Nautical Science or Marine Engineering. He may also, if qualified, receive a commission as an ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

It is essential that prospective candidates take College Entrance Examination Board tests not later than the March, 1970 administration of these tests.

Those interested in receiving nomination as candidates should contact the office of Assemblyman Wood at 32 East Alisal Street, Salinas, as soon as possible. The telephone number is 422-9085.

Feb. 1, is the final date.

PG&E says business will be moderate in 'Market Outlook'

Northern and Central California business activity will reach moderate new heights in several key sectors, Pacific Gas and Electric Company forecast today in its annual "Market Outlook" study of the 48-county region it serves.

"People make markets," says the publication, estimating a population increase of 145,000 persons in the area this year.

Sales tax law

Consumers received an early Christmas present in 1969 with revisions in California sales tax laws deleting most all of the so-called taxable fruit juice items. Many popular brands of canned punch and fruit drink, Kool-Aid and non-alcoholic coctail mixes were subject to sales tax prior to Jan. 1970.

These items were sold by markets, sometimes without tax being collected, simply because of the fact they are all destined for human consumption, along with several thousand other items in a grocery store not subject to sales tax.

PG&E foresees higher total employment, personal income and taxable retail sales accompanying this population growth, exceeding the national average rates of gain.

The nation's effort to bring inflation under control will have an important effect on the economy of 1970, the company notes, adding that this region cannot look to economic developments greatly counter to national business trends and adjustments.

Californians are different from other Americans generally in subtle ways, and they create an exceptional market for goods and services of many kinds, the 1970 "Market Outlook" asserts. In vivid photographic montages and a special section it depicts a population taht is cosmopolitan, mobile, young, active, well educated, unschackled by tradition and quick to accept innovations.

What's your license number?

Don't look now, but what's your automobile license plate number? Could you give the police a complete description of your vehicle if it was stolen today?

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert C. Cozens says "It's surprising how many people can't remember the license plate number of their car, truck, trailer or motorcycle when they need it most – not to mention the vehicle's engine or chassis identification number.

"This information is on the card which is hadned or mailed back to every owner when he renews his 1970 registration," Cozens said.

"If you want to keep the card in the glove compartment of your vehicle, that's fine, but how about copying down the same information on a piece of paper to be carried in your purse or wallet or kept in a safe place at home?"

Cozens said auto insurance policies usually show the vehicle's license plate and identification number. "Be sure you know where to look for the information," he emphasized.

Tournament Dinners

Rain or shine with a Bingo Binge currently in the air, the trick is to have disaster-and-dilemma proof food on hand.

Prime requisites are: dishes that can readily be stretched so that servings planned for six can expand to tenish. Have a double amount in the freezer to futher augment.

Food should be just as good at room temperature, meaning if guests (and host/hostess) sip and talk instead of immediately eating . . . letting choice morsels become even stony cold on their plates.

Subsequently — and this is as true of desserts as main dishes — foods must break the taste barrier of everyday. Isn't the spice of welcoming guests — many never seen until Crosby 29 and its golf camaraderie— the introduction of a surprise element when it's least expected?

Perhaps, but the offering should be substantial, non-fussy . . . a sort of meat-and-potato he-man type.

Let's start with:

Lemon-Lamb Shanks

Four to 6 lamb shanks; 1 clove garlic; 1 t., salt; shake of ground pepper; 3 T. flour; 1 t. paprika; 2 T. vegetable oil; ½ cup canned chicken broth; 1 bay leaf; 4 peppercorns; 2 T. grated lemon rind; 1 cup fresh lemon juice; lemon wedges.

Cut garlic into thin slices. Insert in gashes made into shanks. Season these with salt and pepper. Roll meat in flour mixed with paprika. Brown lamb in oil in heavy skillet or Dutch oven.

Add remaining ingredients except lemon wedges. Cover and simmer until meat is fork tender, about 2½ to 3 hours. Turn now and then, adding more broth if needed. Serve garnished with lemon wedges.

Accompanying the lamb, the following is quite Carmelish.

Squash Casserole

One lb. crookneck squash; 1 onion, chopped; 2 T. butter; 1 canned hot green chili pepper, minced; 1 t. salt; shake of black pepper; 1 egg, beaten; ½ cup heavy cream; ¼ cup dry white wine; 1/3 cup cubed Monterey Jack cheese; ½ lb. sliced raw Carmel Valley mushrooms.

Preheat oven to 350 F. Wash but do not peel squash. Slice thinly. Place in a heavy skillet with only enough water to prevent scorching. Simmer, covered, until barely tender. Drain well and mash squash. Saute onion and garlic in butter until tender.

Add chili, salt and pepper and squash. Stir in egg, cream and wine. Pour into buttered 1-qt. casserole and bake 30 minutes or until set. Sprinkle cheese over top during last 10 minutes. Scatter sliced raw mushrooms over top.

Here is another lamb dish, one of our favorites:

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

Navarin d' Agneau
(Spring Lamb Stew)

Three lbs. lean lamb shoulder, cut into serving pieces; 3 T. olive oil; 1 T. sugar; salt and black pepper; 3 T. flour; 2-3 cups lamb stock or canned beef bouillon; 2 tomatoes, skinned and coarsely chopped; 2 garlic cloves, minced; pinch crumbled thyme; 1 bay leaf; 12 small potatoes, (canned are alright) or peel and cube them; 6 carrots, cut into 1½-in. lengths; 6 small turnips, peeled and cubed; 12 small white onions; 1 cup shelled peas or 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen; 1 cup green beans, cut into ½-in. lengths. Serves 6.

Preheat oven to 325 F. Brown meat on all sides, a few pieces at a time, in oil. Transfer meat to a heavy coated heatproof casserole. Sprinkle meat with sugar and place casserole over moderate heat for about 5 minutes. Season meat with salt and pepper, sprinkle with flour; cook 5 min. longer and stir. Add lamb or beef stock to cover. Add tomatoes, garlic, thyme, bay leaf and bring just to a boil.

Cover and bake in oven about 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Remove meat to another casserole. Strain sauce. Skim off excess fat and pour sauce over meat. Add vegetables. Cover and bake until vegetables are almost tender. Overcooking at this point is disaster. If frozen peas are used, add for last 5 min. only.

Serve with white flaky rice, a gorgeous green salad, with best olive oil and wine vinegar or fresh lemon juice to taste, ground salt and pepper, a la francaise.

Crusty French bread and the following choice cheeses plus fresh fruits are the answer to a Crosby hostess' party plans on our Peninsula this weekend. Hard and soft drinks are par for the course with California wines, beer, orange juice in plentiful supply.

The Peninsula hostess realizes the value of a cheese corner in her refrigerator. Cheese with fruit, or with crackers, for dessert once was considered frightfully sophisticated and continental. Now it is accepted as good common sense.

Many cheeses that originated in Europe are made successfully in the United States so it is possible to offer a cheese board of great diversity. A brief listing of available but too little known cheeses and their special food affinities follows:

Caerphilly (pronounced "carefully") is Welsh and is as versatile in its uses as Cheddar. It is highly recommended with a McIntosh apple or Bartlett pear. Sweeter fruits, such as Delicious apples or Bosc pears seem to impair its individuality.

Kaskaval, a Rumanian ewe's milk cheese is quite salty and firm when aged. It may be grated, mixed with cream and used as a cracker spread.

Old Heidelberg is a soft American cheese made in Illinois. It can double for Liederkranz and is compatible with hard crackers and beer. Served also with an apple or Melba toast, it is a perfect dessert cheese to follow a corned beef or sauerbraten dinner .. a fine idea for Crosby hostesses.

Pineapple cheese is believed to have originated in Connecticut. Actually a Cheddar type, it is treated

Vanessa Redgrave and James Mason as they appear in "The Seagull."

Village Theater shows 'The Seagull'

Carmel's Village Theatre will present a special two-day showing of the Anton Chekhov classic "The Seagull" on Wed. and Thurs. Feb. 4 and 5.

The film adaptation of Checkhov's drama was directed by Sidney Lument and boasts a cast that includes James MAson, Vanessa Redgrave, Simone Signoret and David Narner.

This is the first showing on the Monterey Peninsula for "The Seagull".

Special group rates are available by contacting Lynn Pearson or Tom Graff at 624-5740 or the Village Theater.

Editorial--

Who's Protecting Whom?

by Bob Benton

Recently, a friend of mine told his teenage son that he planned to see "The Graduate" that evening and asked him what he thought of it. The answer: "It's a great flick, Dad, but you wouldn't understand it." Strange as that statement sounds, it probably contains more truth than many of us are willing to admit. Today, movies may be better than ever, but they are also more confusing than ever, at least for a large number of parents. What they consider shocking, their children consider honest. What they find disturbing, their children seem to take for granted. What they judge immoral, their children do not seem to judge at all.

This is especially true of films which involve sexual activity and nudity. In a recent TV series on "Sex and Violence In the Cinema" three people were asked about the "orgy" scene in "Blow Up." A 17-year-old girl answered this way:

"It's a natural thing. I mean, it might happen anywhere, any day, any time. And it's just presented to the public. There is nothing filthy about it. I mean, you can't be naive about the fact that those sort of things are going to happen. I mean, it might have been a mood carried away, you know, two girls with one guy and everything. But that's what happened." A man responded with:

"Well, the only thing I think about sex is if the sexual act is allowed to be performed on the screen often enough, we're all going to get tired of watching it. There are very few people who are capable of sustaining the sexual act without looking absolutely ridiculous. So that's the only reason I object to it." A woman had this to say: "I think there was no reason for that scene to be played with Vanessa Redgrave half-nude. I think it would have been actually sexier had she been wearing a slip or a robe, or I think it's always more interestingly done, love scenes and what have you, when people are clothed because then something is left to the imagination."

These responses are not necessarily typical of particular age groups, but they are indicative of attitudes toward sex on the screen that are common in the United States today. The girl makes no real moral or aesthetic judgment of the scene in question. Her main concern is whether or not it's realistic, true to life. She decies it is and is satisfied. Though such an attitude may express the absence of "hangups," it is –despite what she says – naive, because it lacks a critical which every intelligent person must bring to a book, a play or a movie. She is correct in saying that such things do happen, but she fails to ask herself if the scene is consistent with what precedes it and what follows; if the part fits neatly and necessarily into the theme of the whole; in short, if it "works."

Movie Review

Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice – An irreverent social satire, slick in its trimmings and backgrounds with a sharp bite in its characters, dialogue and frank appraisal of modern marriage and mores. Golden Bough.

Camille 2000 – Radley Metzger's updating of a tale by Dumas the Younger emphasizes graphic sex acts. "The Lady of the Camellias" has been the favorite part of actresses for ages. At the Hill.

Flareup – Although Raquel Welch is the star, the emphasis, oddly enough, is not on sex but on a psychotic killer as he stalks a go-go dancer. Good, good stuff at the Valley Cinema.

Coogan's Bluff – Arizona sheriff Clint Eastwood is sent to New York to bring back an escaped killer held there by the police. He gets drawn into a group of LSD addicts. At the Marina Automovie..

Eve – Robert Walker, an American pilot has his plane forced down in the Amazon jungles. He is rescued by a beautiful girl – Eve – who is worshiped by the local Indians as a goddess. Yummy. At the Hill.

Once Upon a Time in the West. – Henry Fonda, Jason Robards, Claudia Cardinale, Charles Bronson and Keenan Wynn head the cast of this unusual western directed by Sergio Leone. Lots of clever camera work. At the Valley.

The Stalking Moon – Acclaimed by critics as the best suspense western since "High Noon," this is the story of the hunt for an Apache killer. Gregory Peck, Eva Marie Saint. At the Village.

Downhill Racer – Robert Redford stars in a brilliant study of the genesis of a ski champion in a film as crisp and tightly packed as the ski slopes on which it was shot. At the Steinbeck.

Midnight Cowboy – Raw, often chaotic film follows a male "hustler" through New York City at night. Slick portraits by Dustin Hoffman and Jon Voight make the film worthwhile. At the Marina Automovie.

Where's Jack? – Tommy Steele is the notorious 18th century thief Jack Sheppard of London, whose daring exploits and sympathy for the poor made him a hero in his own time. At the Steinbeck.

Support Your Local Sheriff – A western comedy about a reluctant sheriff who feels he must take the job to protect the town. It was a dull town until he takes over. The money-making sleepr of 1969. At the Grove.

Stage Review

Cactus Flower – Bill Asp's smooth direction keeps the pace of this Abe Burrows classic going at top speed at the Studio Theater-Restaurant. The play is artfully acted and cleverly staged and offers the broadest kind of farce in its 15 scenes. Cactus Flower plays weekends at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday, 7:30 on Sunday. Outstanding dinner served prior to stage production.

Light Up The Sky – A hilarious look at the inside of show business in Moss Hart's funniest comedy to date. This is a satire on the foibles, hang ups and mores of those who people the theater. Directed by Zelma Weinfield, Light Up The Sky is the story of a play having its try-out in Boston prior to opening in Broadway. Playing weekends at the Circle Theater, with curtains at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday, one hour earlier on Sunday.

Mixed media art show by MPC students at MISH

An exhibit of mixed-media collages and acrylic paintings by Monterey Peninsula College art students is currently on view at the Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing, 969 Pacific Street, Monterey, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The exhibitors, who study with Alex Gonzales, MPC art Instructor and prominent local painter, are Diana Brenna, Laurence Ledoux, Pat Hinkley, Michelle Peterson, Karry McArthur, Linda Shoemaker, Peter Saffery, and Sarah Davies.

The showing will remain at the Institute until Jan. 30.

Point Reyes Trip

One of California's finest natural recreation areas lies just north of the Bay Area. It is the Point Reyes National Seashore and it offers some of the best hiking trails to be found anywhere coupled with magnificent views of the ocean, sand dunes and rugged seashore.

The best way to explore Point Reyes is on foot, taking off along one of several trails that begin at the headquarters just a mile west of Olema.

The Bear Valley Trail is the most popular hiking route. It is 4.4 miles from the trailhead to the coast and is fairly level and easy to walk.

Taking off from the Bear Valley Trail are several others – the Meadow Trail, Old Pine Trail and Baldy Trail. These are steeper but lead eventually to an overlook above the ocean.

The sky trail leads to Mt. Wittenburg, the highest point in the Pt. Reyes National Seashore. This trail leads all the way down the coast where the hiker can pick up the Bear Valley Trail for the walk back to park headquarters. Total length of this loop trip is 11 miles and makes an ideal one-day hike for experienced hikers.

A good plan is to get started early in the morning. This gives you time to explore the beaches, have lunch either along the coast or from a hilltop overlooking the ocean and still get back to your car before night comes. A few tips on hiking: beware of the poison oak and don't venture too close to the cliff edges. Also be mindful of the tides. Although the tide action is slow, you can be trapped on a beach along the cliffs that might be submerged at high tide.

There are three back-pack camps where you can stay overnight. These are Sky Camp, Coast Camp and Glen Camp, each contains 12 campsites complete with picnic tables and fireplaces. Fresh water and toilet facilities are also provided.

In case hiking is not your strong point, you can drive to Point Reyes Beach or to Drakes Beach. Point Reyes beach stretches for eight miles or more north from the Point Reyes Light Station. The surf and undertow here is extremely dangerous and there is no swimming.

At Drakes Beach however, it's a different story. The beach is protected from the wind and swimming is allowed. There is a large bathhouse complete with restaurant and snack bar.

Point Reyes National Seashore is an outdoorsman's paradise. There are bird rookeries and sea lion herds on off-shore rocks. Inland from the cliffs are fresh-water lakes, sand dunes, grassy lowlands, sharp ridges covered with forests of Bishop pine and Douglas fir. It makes an ideal day's outing for the family or a perfect spot for a long camping vacation.

Vets Want To Know

Q I have heard that certain VA hospitals are "teaching hospitals." What does this mean?

A Many VA hospitals are affiliated with university medical schools. In this arrangement, VA hospitals are used to train medical residents who are pursuing advanced courses in medicine. In fact, the VA trains more than 11 per cent of all medical residents.

Q I have a loan on my G.I. insurance policy. For the past few years I have been paying the interest as it became due. I would now like to pay on the principal, but how do I proceed?

A Send with your check the stub attached to the receipt for your interest payment. If you do not have the stub, enclose a note requesting that the payment be applied to your loan.

Q I am enrolled in college under the G.I. Bill. Will my monthly payments be reduced for the Christmas vacation and the period between semesters?

A No. In institutions of higher learning the Christmas vacation and the period between semesters are considered part of the school year. Deductions will not be made for these periods.

Q Is there ever a time when VA benefits may be forfeited?

A Yes. They may be forfeited for fraud, treason and subversive activities.

Q My son will soon be discharged from the service. He quit high school in his third year to enlist, and now he is interested in getting a diploma. Because of our financial needs at home, can he get benefits from the VA while attending high school part-time or full-time?

A Yes – and without any loss of entitlement for attending college should the want to do so after earning his high school diploma. If he attends a high school full-time as a single veteran he will receive $130 a month. Payment for half-time is $60; for three-quarter time, $95. Any VA office will gladly assist him. One of the first things he should do upon discharge is to apply to the VA for a Certificate of Eligibility which he needs to obtain benefits for schooling or on-the-job training.

Higher VA checks for widows

Bigger checks for approximately 168,000 widows of veterans are due in Jan., according to Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Signed by the President on Oct. 27, 1969, a new law authorizes increases for most widows of serviceman and veterans who are eligible for dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC).

These payments, Johnson explained, are authorized for widows of servicemen and veterans who died on or after January 1, 1957, of service-connected causes.

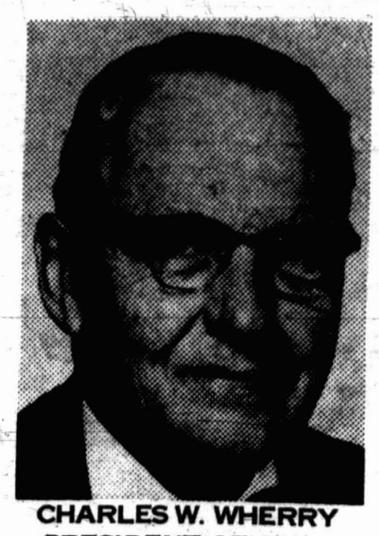
The increase will show up first in checks received in January. This increase is automatic and no application is needed

Dept. of Fish and Game 1969 hilites

Control of a serious waterfowl botulism outbreak, improved ocean fishing, an accelerated salmon rehabilitation program and departmental reorganizations were among the 1969 highlights reported by Ray Arnett, director of the California Department of Fish and Game, in his annual report to the Fish and Game Commission.

A series of critical problems during the year included the first Santa Barbara oil spill, which the DFG is still monitoring on a weekly basis; the botulism outbreak which killed 104,215 birds; heavy snows and runoff which caused emergency feeding of deer and hampered fish hatchery operations.

He cited creation of an Anadromous Fisheries Branch to deal with such important species as salmon, steelhead, striped bass, shad and sturgeon; and reorganization of DFG's marine resources function, including creation of a separate marine region to carry out management and protection functions on the ocean, and establishment of an Operations Research Branch.



CHARLES W. WHERRY
PRESIDENT OF CSAA

Wherry named to head CSAA

Charles W. Wherry, Modesto, was re-elected president of the California State Automobile Association at its Board of Directors' meeting in San Francisco.

Arthur H. Breed, Jr., Oakland, and Harmer E. Davis, Berkeley, were re-elected vice presidents and Jack F. Daly, Jr., Eureka, was re-elected treasurer.

All officers will serve one-year terms.

Wherry is a retired furniture company executive and has long been prominent in business and civic affairs in Modesto. He has been a CSAA director since 1958 and served as a vice president from 1965 to 1969.

Carmel Chapter Chatter

Honors Due

How could we starg the new year without paying tribute to outstanding chapter volunteers?

Aloys E. Nicholson, who, at the close of 1969, completed 35 consecutive years as a Red Cross First Aid Instructor. During all this time Mr. Nicholson has taught two or more classes each year – and he is still available.

Violet Baldwin, who has been scheduling the volunteers for the bloodmobiles, has had to give up her task after almost four years due to a conflict with other activities. In spite of "all these wonderful, dedicated people," as Vi refers to the volunteers, the job required many hours, dependability, considerable tact and a sense of responsibility. Adapting to the many changes of schedule, last minute substitutions and all the telephoning with never a ripple in her calm, pleasant manners have endeared her to her co-workers. Vi will continue to work with the volunteer staff when she can.

The American Red Cross needs and honors such dedicated volunteers.

Thanks Received

Letters received from the recipients of our Christmas Ditty Bags sent to servicemen in Vietnam are heartwarming. All have come from members of the 101st Airborne Division, including the commanding officer as well as all ranks. Each expresses gratitude that people at home, or, as many express it, "The World," have not forgotten them. Many seem to look upon the gifts in a very personal way and sent thanks for "remembering me."

This, in part, from the CO, Lt. Col. George W. Ford: "We have just received your Ditty Bags for our men for Christmas. We have them under our (artificial) Christmas tree. On Christmas morning each man in my unit will have a gift, thanks to you."

Pfc. Donald Stec. writes: "Thank you for your little Christmas package for a GI away from home during the holiday season. The contents will be very useful. It's wonderful to know someone back in the world thinks of the GI besides his own family. Thank you once again."

From Staff Sergeant Russell C. Wiley: "Though you will doubtless receive many Thank You's for the excellent and wonderful bag of goodies, I would like to say a personal Thank You. When boys and even some of us older men are away from friendly and normal surroundings it is indeed wonderful that so many of you take time and expense to remember. Throughout this Christmas season, and all year long, may God bless each one of you, and your untiring efforts for each one of us."

Sgt. Wiley enclosed the greeting message he found in his bag with "Great" written on it. In case all readers don't know, the message sent by the chapter is "Christmas Greetings. The Board of Directors, the Volunteers of this chapter and many, many people in the community participated in sending you this small token of appreciation. We are with you in spirit during this holiday season."

What's New?

Red Cross Water Safety Instructor Training is now incorporated in the Physicial Education program of the Carmel High School. Veteran Instructor Robert Walthour will be in charge of the program and Phyllis Crockett, our Instructor Trainer, will attend to the certification. The community is fortunate in having two such well qualified teachers on the Carmel High School staff.

It's hardly news that the Army has decided bloodmobiles at Fort Ord will be held on a different day – but anyway, the day now is to be Tuesday.

Aluminum is beautiful--save it for the Ventana Chapter fund drive on Feb. 7

Save those TV dinner trays and pop cans with rounded bottoms, if you want to make a painless contribution to the Sierra Club's conservation campaigns in Monterey county.

Saturday, Feb. 7, has been set by the Ventana Chapter, Sierra Club, as the climax for its collection drive for aluminum. On that day, collection depots, manned by members of the chapter's youth group, will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at high schools in Monterey, Seaside, Pacific Grove and Carmel.

The aluminum can be in thyform of foil, beer of pop cans (identified by rounded bottoms), or any other disposable container made of the light-weight metal. Contributors are asked to rinse off and flatten cans and other items.

Students who will be in charge of the pickup truck teams at high school collection depots Feb. 7 are Andrew Stockton, Seaside High; Lowell Smith, Pacific Grove High; David Allison, Mnterey High; and John Bradley, Carmel High.

For further information about the aluminum drive, call Jim Demetry, 375-9267.

Cinema Festival

The New Cinema Festival, a collection of internationally recognized films which has had sell-out performances in Lincoln Center, The Los Angeles County Museum, The Ravinia Festival in Chicago, and university concert halls and theaters across the country, will be presented Jan. 28 and 31 and Feb. 4 and 7 in Monterey Peninsula College's Lecture-Foru, 103.

The festival will feature two complete programs of nine films, each to be shown twice, with tickets selling at $1.50 for general admission to each program and $1 for students.

Program 1, to be shown at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 28 and Saturday, Jan. 31, will include the following award-winning short works by leading filmmakers: "Enter Hamlet," by Mogubgub, United States; "Renaissance," by Valerian Borowczyk, Poland; "Les Mistons '67," by Francois Truffaut, France; "The Running, Jumping and Standing Still Film," by Richard Lester, Enlgnad; "Two Castles," by Bruno Bozzeto, Italy; "The Fat and the Lean," by Roman Polanski, Poland and the United States; "Corrida Interdite," by Denys Colomb de Daunant, France; "Allures," by Jordan Belson, United States; and "La Jetes," by Chris Marker, France.

Program 2, scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 4, and Saturday, Feb. 7 will include: "The Concert of M. Kabal," by Borowczyk, Poland; "All the Boys are Called Patrick," by Jean-Luc Godard, France; "Al!" by Yoji Juri, Japan; "Actua-Tilt," by Jean Herman, France; "The Do-It-Yourself Cartoon Kit," by Bob Godfrey, England; "Act without Words," by Guido Shepard, Canada.

Collectively, the films have won almost every major short film award in the world.

Tickets are now available at the MPC community services offices afternoons or may be purchased by mail. Mail requests should specify the programs for which tickets are desired.

Indian Film

"Charulata," a 1965 film directed by Satyajit Ray, most noted film-maker in India, will be screened at Monterey Peninsula College Friday, Jan. 23, at 8 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

Also known as "The Lonely Wife," the award-winning work has been called "Ray's best film since the Apu trilogy." Fascinatingly complex and perceptive, it is a tale of Victorian India based on a novel by Tagore.

The film earned for Ray a Silver Bear Award at the 1965 Berlin Film Festival and the International Catholic Film Office's Special prize. At the time, a London Times critic commented: "To create an atmosphere of impending change by no other means than a superb sense of timing, the use of light and shade and a sparse use of dialogue is evidence of Ray's artistic sensibility."

Tickets for the showing, at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students, are available afternoons in the KPC community services office or may be purchased at the door.

Ernie Osuna, descendant of the Hidalgos, is Monterey County Bicentennial Ambassador

Ernie Osuna wears three hats. He is a Los Angeles businessman, the ambassador of San Diego's bicentennial during 1968 and this year, at the invitation of representatives on the Peninsula, he has assumed the position of ambassador during Monterey County's Bicentennial year.

Ernie is well qualified to serve as a representative of California's Spanish heritage. He is the great great grandson of Juan Maria Osuna, San Diego's first mayor and a direct descendant of General Pio Pico, the last Mexican governor of California.

In 1967, San Diego bicentennial representatives contacted Ernie to begin planning the celebrations for the following year. His duties were set down and six colorful Californiano costumes with hats, boots and accessories were designed for him by a San Diego tailor.

Under the official title of "El Hidalgo de San Diego", Ernie began working and traveling in 1968 as San Diego's ambassador.

In 1969, San Diego's flaot led the Rose Parade in honor of the bicentennial year.

In July, 1968, Ernie was flown to President Johnson's ranch by Governor John B. Connally of Texas to have lunch with the president.

Then in August of 1969, he was invited to a luncheo and a White House tour b Mrs. Nixon. Shortly afte that, he was invited to th state dinner honoring the Apollo XI astronauts held at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles. There he met President Nixon.

Now that San Diego's bicentennial year has officially ended, Ernie Osuna is working full time as Monterey's good-will ambassador. He describes his duties as, "an opportunity to travel through the U.S. and invite people of our nation to comysometime this year to visit us, take part in our festivities and see for themselves why we are so very proud to live here in this county."

Poetry Corner

A popular, long-time contributor to the Pine Cone's Poetry Corner, the Comtesse Clover de Berard, cannot remember not writing, but she did not study writing techniques until after she already had sold thousand of words of verse and prose.

In early years she "knew writing wrote itself," so directed the still-present zest for living with which her parents endowed her to studying thep piano, thinking of a concert career.

After her school time came marriage, keeping house, babies – "really, all my dreams came true." Then came the day she picked up the first issue of a new neighborhood newspaper.

The young Clover dashed off a sketch, pushed it under the editor's door, read it back in the next issue – and a writer was born. The editor engaged her to contribute to the women's page, write her own recipes, do reviews and "even, gads, PTA."

She progressed to the wider readership of metropolitan dailies, among them the Los Angeles Times and the Denver Post – and the Carmel Pine Cone, which she said the poetry course from which she graduated rated as "top market."

Her 15 years with the late "Script" magazine she called "the best thing that could happen to a young writer." In her more seasoned years, McCall's magazine paid her its top rates.

Although the Comtesse's greatest success has been in poetry, she has had other and unusual literary experiences, including being hired as a color consultant on the basis of articles she wrote on color psychology, and composing a brochure for a supermarket's mural.

Maybe it all did "write itself." When her son, then three, was asked if he were going to be a writer like his mother, he replied, "No, I'm going to work – like my dad."

This week's Poetry Corner is all Comtesse Clover de Berard.

THE MEASURE OF LOVE

Does it know the scent of barley
In an evening Maytime breeze?
Or a field-lark's mid-day parley
Over nests in tall grass-trees?

When it finds the church spire resting
Just two inches from the moon,
Does a note of eager questing
Sound within its singing tune?

If its feeling through each season
Springs from small things understood;
Then, this love has all the reason;
For acceptance; – it is good.

THOUGHT:CAPRICCIOSO

Thought plays
When hearing rain beat thirsty soil to batter mix.
It flays
At sight of hail-demolished Wheat crop's ground of sticks.
Thought stays
But fleetingly upon unchartered course each day;
Yet lingers
In forever – of some moment's holding way.

RE-EVALUATION

"The Measure of Love" was my metrical scan–
Framed in a bubble of ego's best rhyme;
Missing immeasurableness of love; and the man,
Belonging in non-dimensional Time.

LOVE STAYS

You can't bank love, hoard interest due;
Nor save emotion keeping you.
The only hope to have love stay:
Is giving far beyond its day.

I BELIEVE

I believe in things I do not see –
Beyond the back of cloud – above my tree.
I believe in things that carry sound
Of greatness – in sought silence I have found.
I believe in things – like Faith – I know
Abide within my feelings first – to grow
To giant proportions. Intangibles give much
Of Understanding – God's – to guide my touch.

THE DAY THAT SHAPES ITSELF

They set full schedules,
then check off musts and more things;
People rush by me – filling every minute.
Busy with small wonder of only unlocked questings,
I find best shape of day shows not too much stuffed in it!

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

This library now has a copy of the official bicentennial publication, which is entitled Viejo Monterey. The price does not seem to be listed anywhere in the book so we cannot tell you about that, but you will probably want one to help you celebrate the bicentennial no matter what the book costs.

And now, to help you get ready for the bicentennial, we have a book called Wake Up Your Body, by Guy Remsen of the Beverly Hills Health Club. It has all the advice you need to firm up your muscles, improve your health, make you more beautiful, in short you will find in this book all you need to prepare for a whole flock of bicentennials.

Those of us who have always lived in the northern or western states may find it hard to get a really clear picture of conditions to be found among the black people of the south. A book to help along this line is Silent Voices, The Southern Negro Woman Today by Josephine Carson.

At the time the book came out, the author was living in Ojai, Calif. While doing the research for Silent Voices she traveled all over the south, talking to Negro women of all economic levels and with all levels of education. Theses were the silent ones in this moving book, their voices are heard at last.

A Negro woman named Charity went with the author and acted as a sort of go-between to introduce her to the women she interviewed and to explain their circumstances. The reader learns to respect Charity and to share her dispair and her burning desire to help these women. This is a book you should read, especially if you happen to be a woman.

Red Barber has been for many years one of our top sports commentators. He has just published a new book on the various famous sports figures of our times.

The switcheroo is that these are people who overcame great handicaps or set-backs during their careers and who conquered these problems through spiritual understanding or faith. Each chapter is prefaced with a quotation from the Bible. The title is Walk In the Spirit.

We have a copy of John Hick's book The Long Whip. It is a story of the Civil War and of Ben Franklin, a slave who obtained his freedom, and later became a Colonel in the Union Army.

This is a well constructed novel, written in clear unpretentious prose, and it will hold your interest. It is pretty frank in spots, and if you object to that tell him, not us, because he lives here.

For once we can pass the buck. Truman was wrong, generally the buck stops HERE. We are told that this book is already out in a paperback, which speaks well for its appeal.

John Hicks will soon be driving a solid gold Cadillac, and on him it will look good.

One last book, which has to do with young people, should be mentioned here and that book is Help Your Child Lose Weight. So often children seem to gain weight during their adolescent years. This book by Gussie Mason should help them drop off those unwelcome pounds. The recipes sound delicious. And the helpful suggestions to aid the parents in their influencing those tubby children to want to loose weight, sound good too.

Bach Festival tryouts set

Sandor Salgo, nationall recognized musical director and conductor of the Carmel Bach Festival, will be in Carmel on Saturday, January 24 to conduct auditions for singers and instrumentalists interested in participating in the 1970 Bach Festival.

Dates for this year's Festival are July 17 through 26.

Auditions will be held in the music room of Carmel High School from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. on teh 24th. Singers, both men and women, with good choral background are invited to attend as are instrumentalists.

Those wishing to make audition appointments are urged to call the Bach Festival office, 62401521, mornings between 9 and noon.

Chorus rehearsals will be held every Tuesday night beginning in February, the first date to be announced.

Kenneth Ahrens, organist and choir master at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Monterey and head of the Music Department at Santa Catalina School for Girls, will serve as assistant to Salgo.

The 1970 Ansel Adams Yosemite Photography Workshop will be given in Yosemite Valley, June 6 through June 21.

The workshop offers instruction in visualization, theory and application of the Zone System, practical processing theory, esthetic and functional problems and photography but color will be included and sessions include print criticism and discussion.

For information write to: Workshop, Best's Studio, Inc., Box 455, Yosemite National Park, Ca. 95389.

Glass sculpture

A one-man show of glass sculpture by Marvin Lipofsky, one of America's foremost glassblowers, will open Friday, January 16 at the California College of Arts and Crafts Gallery, 5283 Broadway, Oakland. The public is invited to attend the opening, 7 to 9 p.m. to meet the artist. The exhibit continues through Feb. 9 and may be seen from 11 to 5 daily.

Western Opera Theater presents two operas under auspices of Carmel Music Society Jan. 23

For its third concert of the season the Carmel Music Society will present the Western Opera Theater in a fully staged performance with orchestra of two famous one-act operas: Menotti's "The Medium" and Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi" will be given at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel on Friday, Jan. 23, at 8:30 p.m.

Western Opera Theater, now in its fourth season, was created early in 1967 by the San Francisco Opera through the impetus of a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

Additional grants plus support from the California Arts Commission and foundations have enabled the company to continue and to grow.

In its first two seasons of touring throughout the Western United States, Western Opera brought into reality a long-cherished dream of San Francisco Opera general director Kurt Herbert Adler — the establishment of a "grass roots" opera company of high professional caliber that would be within the financial reach of smaller communities, colleges and schools, and that would be adaptable to available facilities by they auditoriums, gymnasiums, or large "multi-purpose" rooms.

Western Opera Theater presents fully-staged performances with young professional artists employed on a full-time basis, rather than in a "star" system with visiting artists. The philosophy of the company emphasizes ensemble work and true repertory.

Many peninsula concert-goers will remember the delightful performance of Rossini's "The Barber of Seville" two years ago when the Music Society first sponsored the Western Opera Theater in concert.

Padre Trails Club meets tonight

The Padre Trails Camera Club will meet on Thursday, January 22, at 8 p.m., in Brey Hall at Carmel High School.

Members will present pictorial slides for judging. A program of interest and information for color photographers will follow the judging.

The club meets twice each month (except July and August), on the first and third Thursdays, for discussion and demonstration of various phases of color photography. Members have the opportunity to show their own slides in friendly competition in two categories, pictorial and nature, for constructive criticism by competent judges from outside the group. At the close of each meeting there is time for exchange of ideas.

Visitors are welcome, and membership is open to all who wish to develop their interest and skill in color photography.

'Of Astrology and Predictions... and Cabbages and Kings'

by Jewel White

Yes, the time has come to again stick our nec out . . . along with a fast-growing group of predictors . . . and see how many of our Celestial Findings are, in fact, FACT. Reviewing our 1969 column, here we go:

My first one for 1969 seemed pretty far out, at the time, about the findings of MOON materials. I STILL say there is life there, but in deep caves. And it does NOT mean life as we know it. Vegetation is also life. And so are the minerals that will still prove of great chemical vlue to us . . Especially medically.

My second one said that Birth-control and Marijuana would be made legal in America before 1970. That is already HALF true. Some states have OKed Birth Control and the Marijuana question is being openly discussed to place before our lawmakers.

About the Earthquakes . . I was probably the only one who did NOT see the rising of Lumeria in '69 . . . nor the crumbling of ANY California cities. I did predict many earthquakes of local origin, and mostly along the Tahachipi fault. These we have certainly had. And, I still stubbornly cling to the fact that the war in Vietnam should END in August . . . Let's wait and see.

Another one we must still wait for is the dividng of California by 1975. Last night a San Francisco TV newscast stated that teh question of water rights might hurt the entire Monterey Bay area. That could be a start in that direction, because, if WE have water problems, think how it will affect Southern California. After all, we DO have North and South Carolinas, Virginias and Dakotas already.

I said that an American would win the Irish Sweepstakes, and LO, one DID.

Also predicted water, water everywhere, and the dreadful floods certainly "speak for themselves." Probably because the popular AQUARIUS song came out this year, most people think we are just going into the Aquarius Age . . . Not so . . . We have been in it for about two years. And, the sign, itself is NOT a water sign. It is an AIR sign . . . When we DO leave it for the very fertile water sign, PISCES . . we will ALL need our fins and Snorkel-Boots.

The Kentucky Derby took us at our word and produced a nice upset of the odds-on favorite . . I had predicted that it would . Also that it would be an unsuspected son of a former winner recently paced to that distance . . And so it was . . . The favorite was ARTS & LETTERS and he was nosed out by MAJESTIC PRINCE, grandson of ROYAL CHARGER a former

Slide-and-lecture series on 'The Holy Land' starts Feb. 19 at Carmel Mission

"The Holy Land, Then and Now," will be the title of a series of presentations featuring slides of the Holy Land which will be offered to the public beginning Wednesday Feb. 19 at the Carmel Mission's Crespi Hall.

Father Gratian Gabel, O.F.M. will conduct the course that will run through Wednesday of Holy Week.

Following is the complete program.

1) The Patriarchs and the Exodus – the Sinai experience which determined the entire spiritual direction of the people of God.

2) Josue and the Judges – the ongoing experience of teh exodus during the settlement in the Promised Land.

3) The Fall and the Exile of the People of God – the sorrowful cleansing of the people – conversion of a people from privilege to responsibility.

4) The Temple and the Presence of God in the midst of the People of God – a touching reconstruction of Solomon's Temple and its meaning upon our life.

New Testament

1) The Area of the Boyhood of Christ – Bethlehem – Nazareth – Galilee.

2) The Public Ministry of Our Lord.

3) The Last twenty-four Hours of our Lord's Life

Special Series

1) Biblical Archeology – how the Scriptures are rediscovered in the relics of the past.

2) The Dead Sea Scrolls – the great discovery of 1947 of the oldes biblical documents.

3) The Journeys of St. Paul.

4) The Church in the first century of Roman Empire.

All lectures are not merely documents of the past. Their real impact is for the present. They do not present merely a record of facts – but a record of God's saving action into the present.

The series is offered to all parishioners of Carmel and neighboring parishes for seven weeks beginning Feb. 18, each Wednesday – 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Crespi Hall (back of Mission).

Father Gratian comes equipped with twenty-six years of parochial and preaching experience. Pastor, in that span of time, of several large parishes, he has also been associated with retreat houses.

He is well known in many of the churches of the Pacific Coast as a member of the Franciscan Mission Band. A man of studious inclination, his field of special theological interest is that of the Sacred Scriptures.

Teenage discussion

"The Churches in the '70'' an ecumenical conference of worship and christian life will be the subject of Carmel Mission's teenage discussion group, Monday, Jan. 26 in the rectory.

Representative Christian groups including the Orthodox, Roman Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Methodist, and Baptist churches will be profiled with emphasis on their heritage an yet distinct differences.

The program will begin at 7 p.m.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates." These words from Zechariah in the Responsive Reading of the Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" will be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

All are welcome to attend service at First Church of Christ, Scientists, Carmel, beginning at 11:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

A passage included in the lesson from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The Question, What is Truth, is answered by demonstration, – by healing both disease and sin; and this demonstration shows that Christian healing confers the most health and makes the best men." (p. viii).

Christian Science Radio Program

"Do you Really Know Your Child?" is the title of this Sunday's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be broadcast over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML, at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45.

Consumer Power

By Yvonne Earnst

With wallets flattened by Christmas buying, January clearance sales, and auto license fees – with tax time dead ahead – this should be a good time to talk about one way to put some money back into the wallet.

For several years now, I have been a "refunder." This last year, watching grocery prices skyrocket, my evangelistic spirit came to the fore; and I began to find myself tapping fellow supermarket shoppers on their shoulders to tell them how much the boxtops and labels in their shopping carts were worth.

Some shoppers listened with interest, but many thought me a "nut."

But being a determined "nut," I then approached the challenge by writing a newsletter on refunding, writing news releases for the area newspapers, and putting up posters in local stores.

Soon there was a groundswell of interest in this way to obtain a legal rebate on a percentage of our grocery expenditures. This column was born as it became clear that there was a need for consumers to get together on other fronts, too.

For now, though, let's talk about refunding, a good example of "consumer power" in action.

At least 20 years ago, some advertising man hatched the idea of offering a refund to consumers for trying a new product, in the hope that they would then become regular customers. Consumers responded by accepting the idea – and the money – enthusiastically.

Whenever consumers respond like that, advertisers usually consider the promotion a success, and enlarge the program in the future. So it was with refunding, until today there are hundreds of refund offers running constantly.

Offering refunds is really a form of advertising. In America's free enterprise system, advertising plays a very important role. It informs us, ideally, of a product's merits, and of new developments as they occur.

Advertising today is far from perfect, but most of us would complain if suddenly all advertising disappeared.

There is one school of consumer opinion that advertising should be dropped entirely, with prices dropped accordingly. But how would new products find their share of a static market? The competition for space on grocer's shelves is fierce.

Rather than dropping advertising entirely, I feel extravagance in advertising should be held down accompanied by stepped-up efficiency in all areas of marketing products.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

By: Raymond MacDonald

Q. My hearing was tested to find out what kind of hearing aid I should use. Now I find out that Medicare will not pay for this. Why?

A. Diagnostic testing of hearing is covered only when a physician orders it so that he can get additional information to treat a medical or surgical disorder. Also, such testing is only covered when performed by a qualified audiologist. Testing is not covered when performed to determine the appropriate type of hearing aid to be used.

Q. My mother has suffered several strokes and cannot care for herself. We are considering hiring a nurse to visit her each day. Would Medicare cover this?

A. Only when it is provided through a home health agency may part-time nursing care be a covered benefit under Medicare. Such care is a benefit under both Part A and Part B of Medicare program, and is discussed as a home health benefit on pages 11 and 20 of "Your Medicare Handbook." Specific questions regarding nursing care in the benficiary's home should be directed to the Social Security Administration's district office.

Q. Will Medicare pay for repairs to my breathing machine and will it pay for my oxygen that I use in it?

A. Yes, if the equipment was prescribed by a physician, Medicare will help pay for expenses incurred with the use of your equipment.

Q. My mother is elderly and somewhat forgetful. Recently while helping clean her apartment I came across several old receipts for doctors' visits. Mother never filed a claim with Medicare for these expenses. Is it too late to do it now?

A. If the visits to the doctors were before October 1, 1967, it is too late to receive reimbursement from Medicare. If there were between that date and October 1, 1968, she has until December 31, 1969 to apply for reimbursement.

Mission Trails heart meeting on Jan. 31

On Jan. 31, at the Mark Thomas Inn in Monterey, the Central Mission Trails Heart Association will present its sixteenth annual Physicians Symposium on Cardiovascular Disease.

The program will feature a faculty from Stanford University's School of Medicine including Donald C. Harrison, M.D., Chief of the Cardiology Division, and three members of his department, Drs. Robert Finegan, Robert Goldman and Richard Kerber.

Attendance is expected from Monterey, Santa Cruz and San Benito counties. At similar events in the past, the Association has reported attendance by a hundred or more physicians.

Dr. Harrison, the senior member of teh faculty for the program, is a graduate of the Medical College of Alabama. He was a Research Fellow of the American Heart Association, working at Harvard Univeristy, in 1960-61, after which he spent two years with the National Heart Institute, Bethesda, Maryland. In 1963, he joined the staff at Stanford, and has since advanced to his present position as Chief of the Cardiology Division and Associate Professor of MEdicine.

Dr. Harrison's presentation at the Heart symposium will be on "Controversies in the Management of Myocardial Infarction."

Dr. Goldman's contribution to the program deals with oxygen saturations. Drs. Kerber and Finegan will discuss other technical questions in the treatment of heart disease.

The Heart Association's annual symposium is a vehicle for bringing the latest research information in the field of cardiology to local physicians. The program is open to all physicians. There is a concurrent program for nurses.

Further information and reservation forms can be obtained from the Central Mission Trails Heart Association, 541-A South Main Street, Salinas 93901, or by phoning 424-6007.

MPC granted $12,900 for law enforcement course

Monterey Peninsula College has received $12,900 under the United States Department of Justice Law Enforcement Education Program (LEEP) for distribution in loans to fulltime police science students.

This is the second such grant, according to MPC Financial Aids Officer Joyce Bird, to be received during the current fiscal year. In the fall, $9,200 in LEEP funds was received and distributed in loans to 18 students.

Students applying for spring semester loans under the current grant must be majoring in police science and taking at least 12 units of study.

An amount of $150, considered sufficient to cover transportation, books and supplies for a semester, may be loaned without a "need analysis."

Larger amounts, up to $900 per semester, may be granted.

"The beautiful part about these loans," Mrs. Bird pointed out, "is that the students need not repay them until their education is complete, and if they go to work immediately after graduation for a law enforcement agency, 25 per cent of the aggregate amount of loans is forgiven for every year worked."

Students planning to enter MPC in the spring semester as police science majors are urged to contact Mrs. Bird in the MPC administration building immediately.

BofA tells gains, income for 1969

Total consolidated resources of BankAmerica Corporation, amounted to $25,573,115,000 on Dec. 31, a 5.8% increase over the total of $24,163,336,000 a year ago.

In other year-end figures announced by President A. W. Clausen, deposits stood at $22,171,314,000, compared with $21,502,615,000 last year; while loans totaled $14,605,486,000 as compared with $13,357,902,000 reflecting a year of intensive credit demands.

Net income for the year reached $152,213,000 or $4.43 per share, up from $132,615,000 or $3.87 per share in 1968.

Clausen, who recently became president and chief executive officer in both BankAmerica Corporation and Bank of America, the world's largest bank, commented:

"The year was marked by emphasis on the bank's role in solving urban and social problems, keyed by our $100 million program for real estate loans in minority areas.

THE PHONE BOOTH

"Lady, your telephone ate my mouse!"
A little boy was calling from a public telephone.
"My goodness, that's terrible," said Alberta Meeker of Newport Beach, sympathetically. During 40 years of answering requests for repair service, she had never received a call quite like this one. "How did it happen?"
The boy explained that he had closed his pet in the coin return chute, but the mouse had disappeared when he reopened the chute.
"Maybe it's just hiding," said Alberta, writing the order to dispatch a telephone repairman. Then, learning that the boy had to get home right away, she made arrangements so he could pick up the mouse later.
Alberta Meeker's logbook tells the end of the story: 4:15 p.m. Trouble found. Removed mouse and gave to barber next door. 4:20 p.m. Trouble cleared.
Answering a request to remove a mouse from a telephone is indeed unusual, but the story is another example of the patience and understanding of Telephone people who really mean it when they say, "We're here to help."

Take a look at the new Bell System symbol. It's a streamlined version of the familiar bell-in-a-circle design, but it's cleaner, bolder and stylized for more contemporary tastes.

Carmel Inn Rest Home-- Epitome of Excellence

In April the Carmel Inn Rest Home will celebrate it's first anniversary. In that time it has achieved the highest rating of excellence in its field.

Their building on San Carlos, between 7th and 8th, in Carmel is equipped as a modern Rest Home under the very competent and experienced administration of W. E. Patton and Mrs. J. C. Sylvester.

Meals at Carmel Inn are prepared under the direction of skilled dieticians to provide both nourishment for the body, and to make meal times a pleasant experience.

The complete facilities at Carmel Inn, including spacious grounds and garden, color TV in each private room, and every convenience imaginable, are available to anyone having need of a first rate place for those near and dear. Now there are a limited number of private rooms available for elderly guests.

At Carmel Inn a House Doctor is on call at all times, and the entire establishment is supervised by experienced, competent and friendly personnel. You may call the business manager at 624-8336 for a courteous answer to any question you may have. Carmel Inn fills a very real need in our community and we congratulate them on the excellence of their contribution.

Pay taxes with BankAmericard

BankAmericard officials said today that most of its three million California cardholders will be able to pay state and federal income taxes through their accounts.

Use of the credit card as an alternate method of payment will be available to BankAmericard holders by a special check being mailed this week.

The checks will be good for $500, but a cardholder must obtain telephone authorization from BankAmericard for amounts above $100. He then sends it directly to the appropriate tax collector.

Tax collectors will be paid the face amount of the check immediately by BankAmericard, which then adds the amount to the cardholder's account.

He is charged a 4% fee for the tax loan. If he chooses to extend repayment, the normal monthly finance charge will be put into effect.

WandJ Ponder offer greatest quality furniture values

Wells Fargo 1970 dividends

Wells Fargo & Company, parent company of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. reported to a modest earnings gain in 1969 reflecting restrictive monetary policies.

Net income for the year ending Decmeber 31 was $32,027,925, equal to $3.50 per share, compared to $29,506,649 or $3.27 per share a year ago, an increase of seven per cent.

Earnings were adversely effected by changes in the 1969 Tax Reform Bill, which reduced net income by approximately ten cents a share. The most significant was a retroactive adjustment of the income tax rate on security gains and losses effective July 12, 1969.

NE-STORY ADDITION – This architect's rawing shows the proposed additions to armel's central office as part of Pacific Telephone's unprecedented 1970 construction program. Building's architectural design blends well with existing structures.

Phone company plans major expansion of Carmel office

As part of the company's unprecedented 1970 construction program, Pacific Telephone will spend $1,750,000 in the Monterey area, according to Don Boston, local manager.

The most ambitious building effort in the firm's history – totaling $740 million – is geared to expand in improve service state-wide, as well as match California's unrelenting growth, Boston said.

Major expenditures in the Monterey area during 1970 include the following:

–$400,000 for a 25: x 88: one-story building addition to the existing central office at 7th and Junipero, Carmel.

–$94,000 for new switching equipment and toll trunks at 401 Franklin St., Monterey.

–$116,000 for custom dialing equipment at 401 Franklin, designed for Centrex service for the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

Another $280,000 has been earmarked in 1970 for undergrounding in the Monterey area, Boston announced.

The remaining outlay will be used for additional cable and related communications equipment.

The number of telephones have increased in Monterey in the last year from 46,879 to 49,200.

Kiwanans visit Ft. Ord wards

Carmel Kiwanans heard assistant professor of the department of mathematics Herman Marks, Naval Postgraduate Schoo, at its noon meeting Thursday at the Pine Inn.

President Les Erickson explained to members the new project of the Kiwanis group – visiting the orthopedic ward at the Fort Ord hospital.

The project, which started in December in cooperation with the Red Cross, has proven to be a most gratifying experience, Erickson said.

"We play dominos or just sit at the bedside and chat with the men. This would really be a worthwhile project for other service clubs in the Monterey Area."

John Mason is the chairman of the Kiwanis committee, and Mrs. A. Woessner is the contact at the Fort Ord American Red Cross office.

Town House film

Town House members and guests are invited to the showing of a movie on Alaska which will be provided through the courtesy of Alaska Air Lines.

The program will be held Wednesday, Jan. 28 at the Carmel Town House on Lincoln and 8th.

Visitors to the Town House will also be able to view oils and ceramics by Jay Wallace which will be on display during the month of January.

Art Center meeting

The Pacific Grove Art Center Guild will hold its first meeting on Jan. 27 at 1 p.m. at the Center on Lighthouse Ave. in Pacific Grove.

The meeting will be conducted by the acting president Mrs. Borell Kirschen.

Anyone interested in the Guild and the Center are invited to attend.

The Art Center is open Tuesday through Sunday from 1 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Adult classes in painting offered

Girard Aken, Carmel seascape artist and painting instructor for the Carmel Adult School, will take classes outdoors whenever possible during the coming year.

The weather will be the factor, he says, and his class in landscape painting, which begins Feb. 4 in Room 17, Sunset Center, will paint landscapes, seascapes and outdoor scenes whenever it is warm and dry enough.

The classes at Sunset are held every afternoon from 1-5.

Classes in general painting techniques will be taught by Aken every Wednesday morning from 9 a.m. until noon at the Carmel Valley Manor.

Both classes are sponsored by the Carmel Adult School, with a tuition fee of $5 per class. There is an additional charge of $.50 for utilities. Students furnish their own paints, brushes, easel, canvas and other necessary equipment.

RLS Forensic team

Under the leadership of three long-winded Seniors, the Stevenson Forensic Team is optimistic for this years upcoming debates and individual events tournaments.

RLS Senior and four year forensics veteran Gary Novack is captain of the individual events squad.

Under his talented direction are Juniors Rik Johnson, Arlen Chase and George Wing; plus a welcome eighth grade newcomer to the Forensic team – Brian Hoffman.

Timm Donahoe and partner Dick Millard are the two Senior co-captains of debate.

Both Donahoe and Millard will compete in the debate tournament.

Masters Concert

Joanne's Jottings

I RECENTLY overheard an unnerved tourist to Carmel Valley exclaim, "There ought to be more guard rails along some of these narrow roads. "They used to put up more," a resident replied. "It just got too expensive – the tourists keep knocking them down."

Many of those coming to Carmel Valley these days, perhaps, are in a hurry to reach Joanne Boutique, women's wear headquarters, to take advantage of the sensational savings during their well-patronized annual sale of name brand merchandise. Joanne Boutique is easy to find – next to the pharmacy, opposite the post office. Use your Bankamericard or Master Charge. Green stamps with every purchase. Open Sundays, 11 to 4. So hurry on out to Carmel Valley – to Joanne Boutique, where a warm welcome awaits you.

CHS Second annual Bargain Fair set for Mar. 14 to support scholarship fund

Saturday, Mar. 14 is the date chosen by the Padre Parents for their second annual Bargain Fair held at the Carmel High School Gym. Proceeds from this event go to the Carmel High School Scholarship Fund and to the American Field Service.

James G. Heisinger, president of the Parents Group, announced Co-Chairmen for the event would be Mrs. Patrick Dormody and Mrs. Louise Rudolph.

All items in usuable and salable condition will be gratefull accepted.

Sections of the fair are: Plants; Household Items; Baby and Childrens Wear; Teen; Jewelry; Shoes, Purses, and Hats; Books and Records; Arts and Crafts; Mens Wear; Toys and Sports; Furniture and Womens Wear. A bake sale will also be held and the snack bar operated.

A box will be placed in the school office for receipt of donations. Those wishing to donate sale items may contact Mrs. Gene Vandevort, 624-8801 for pick up. Parents or others wishing to participate in organizing and working at the fair may contact Mrs. Patrick Dormody, 624-2635.

The success of the Carmel High School's Scholarship Fund depends on the response of you, the reader, and of our community to the Bargain Fair.

Bus garage alternatives studied by CUSD Board

The appointment of an architect for the proposed bus garage on the Carmelo School site was the chief topic for discussion at last week's Carmel Unified School District board meeting.

The administration felt that since considerable time had been spent on garage discussion with the firm of Keeble and Rhonda, it would be an advantage to the district to employ the firm as architects for the project.

The Rev. James W. Brock asked the board to take a serious look at alternative sites. He said a great many people living near the Carmelo property were opposed to its development as a bus yard.

Trustee Steven H. Sasson pointed out that the superintendent is planning to look into alternate locations but that property owners should be willing to meet with the school board to listen to its views.

Residents of the Carmelo had recently passed a resolution opposing the bus compound. Trustees Sassoon and Richard Wilsdon felt that concerned property owners should have contacted the district staff or school board before taking action. They pointed out that the board had been and is willing to meet with Carmel Valley property owners.

In other business, the school board approved the names of persons proposed for committees for the Drug Misuse Program as reviewed by the board at an executive session on Dec. 10.

The proposed members will be contacted to discuss education, leisure time assessment and drug misuse to prepared for the development of programs that may be applied during the next school year.

The resignation of Mrs. Barbara Clement, effective Dec. 19, 1969, was accepted.

The 1968-69 audit was reviewed by Bertram Heckenlaible, Carmel CPA, who was in attendance at the board meeting to present the audit and answer questions.

Two new courses, Beginning Photography and the History of Art were approved for the Carmel Adult School for this year's spring semester.

In a summary of a cost survey based on average daily attendance, Walter Hinton, business manager, submitted a report that indicated a definite trend toward smaller school districts, particularly the remote areas which cost more to operate than large ones. The report revelaed that the Carmel School District was ranked 17th of he 234 unified school districts in California for assessed valuation per child.

The study showed that the C.U.S.D. tax rate, including permissive overrides for 1968-69, was $2.90 compared to a $3.57 average for Monterey County and a $3.65 average for all unified school districts in the State.

Finally, the board objected to recently passed Assembly Bill 606 which requires that the district operate single session kindergartens by 1971 with a series of financial penalties for non-compliance prior to that time.

Assistant Superintendent, Dr. James F. Halcomb, explained that if the district wanted full funding, one teacher must teach a single 180 minute kindergarten session per day as opposed to the former 150 minute sessions twice a day. The new system would make it necessary to hire two new kindergarten teachers, making a district total of eight.

Richard T. Wilsdon added, "This is not the first time we have objected to a legislation already passed." He also felt that the board should keep better track of what is going on in the legislature. There are sources available that educators do not use.

winner. Also, he had never run more than a 5½ furlongs race and was certainly "stretched-out" to win. We almost couldn't have called it more exactly, and with Johnny Longdon on top as added whipped cream.

So, goodbye to 1969 . . For some it was awful, for some it was fine . . . . We start the 70s with hopeful hearts pointed toward world peace . . And, for my PREDICTIONS . . . Here we go; . . 1970, Do your thing.

I believe we will land on still another planet in 1970.

We should discover life on the MOON in 1970 and especially chemicals.

Houses should be built almost overnight to satisfy a great influx of newcomers to certain areas where new industries arise.

Machinery we never believed possible will be introduced to the public. Earn-as-you-learn programs will be necessary to operate these . . . Thus a lot of small townsites (like Atomic City in Idaho) will come into being. This will furnish new employment and the last half of 1970 should show lessening of tensions and freer spending.

The racing picture will be less radical, and I believe that the great Kentucky Derby (still pronounced DARBY, by the Grassy Set) will be won by the favorite. Would suggest, tho, that he might have to also be a good Mudder.

Russia will see some flares of revolution, some strikes and scandals in it's "Upper Circles" and more hostility with RED CHINA's demands. I have always said that the next WORLD WAR would find us with Russia as our ally . . But that will be farther away and we may not live to take a part in it . Our children will, tho.

I believe the so-called "HIPPIE" phase should fade away in 1970 . . I was in Oklahoma, Idaho, Colorado, Utah and Montana last year, and they had no Hippies there . . Never did and never will . . And no school problems . . I think most of the trend on the coasts, was due to the fact that most of our teen-age boys felt they would be called any minute to war, and felt no security anywhere. 1970 should promise a better outlook for a period of exploration and peace . . Let's all pray so.

In closing, I still say that what the world needs MOST is LOVE, LOVE, LOVE and less PROMISE'S, PROMISES, PROMISES.

Norberg analyzes Carmel's City Council procedures

By GUNNAR NORBERG

Are you one of the many who have just become aware of the life-and-death importance of certain vital public questions?

Questions which revolve around the now commonly used term ecology, and which basically concern man's environment and his immediate relation to it.

Or are you one of many world-weary ones who did feel a responsibility in the effort to reach right anwers to public questions in the past, but then withdrew into your own personal and private shell because the public arena in which public questions were resolved suddenly seemed too remote or too irrelevant or too topsy-turvy?

Whether you belong to the first group, or to the second, or to neither, the public questions persist and they continue to require solutions.

In CArmel, as in the case of all other cities in the state, there is an election every other year, for members of the body which has the final say in the way in which public questions are resolved for it.

That body is the City Council which, in Carmel, has five members – a major and four councilmen.

This coming spring two of the five members of the Carmel City Council are to be elected.

The Council positions to be voted upon, next April 14 are those presently held by Councilmen Herbert Blanks and Ken Brown.

A week from today will be the first day when nomination papers can be taken out in the City Clerk's office at City Hall on behalf of candidates for the Council whose names someone wants to see printed on next April's city ballot.

Each nomination paper will require the signatures of at least five but not more than ten, of the city's registered voters, to be valid.

While incumbents can, of course, seek to succeed themselves, the history of the elections in Carmel would suggest that there are likely to be two or three times as many candidates as there are Council vacancies to be voted upon.

(The last day, by the way, for the filing of City Council nomination papers, will be noon, February 19th.)

The fact that the City Council nominatioperiod is nearly here should focus attention upon the questions inherent in the election to which those nominations will lead. Particularly should this be the case, in this still truly extraordinary city which Carmel almost unbelievably still continues to be.

What sort of a person would make the best kind of a councilman here in Carmel?

That question has had many different answers through the years: Local business or professional man, retired business executive from somewhere else in the country, retired army or navy officer, active writer, or artist, famous or little-known.

Just after one heated city election, some 10 years ago, a man nationally known both in the business world and in the academic community who lived just outside of Carmel, deplored what he considered the inadequacy of the then incumbent City Council membership.

And what would he have had in its stead?

"Every member of the Carmel City Council, he said pontifically, "should be an individual of sufficient distinction in the country to be included in 'Who's Who in America.' There certainly are," he added, to clinch his point, "plenty such people here from which to choose."

And there are, indeed, "plenty such people." But those who have been thought suitable, and who havybeen approached, have usually refused even to become candidates. Why?

While the City Council may indeed have to make the big decisions for the city, it also has to deal with what many consider endless trivia. Consequently some people who have risen to high executive position in big organizations before they retired, have been unwilling to face the full task of a Carmel city councilman. Others have considered the possibility of defeat in a local council election, too great a humiliation to face in their retirement years.

The result has been that very few of the large number of 'Who's Who in America' biographees – generals, admirals, college presidents, business executives, famous writers and artists – who have lived in Carmel, have ever even become City Council candidates.

One such person who did become a candidate and who was elected, was Perry Newsberry, who also became editor of the Pine Cone. Another was the noted author Fred Bechdolt.

Whether for better of for worse, it seems, therefore, to be impossible to rely upon a listing in 'Who's Who in America' for suitable candidates for the Carmel City Council, no matter how many who are so listed, may be living in the City at any given time.

Who, then, are the suitable candidates?

They should be intelligent, well-informed people, and they should until extra firm in texture and molded to resemble a pineapple, the symbol of hospitality. Used as a center for the cheese board, it should be served like an Edam cheese: Slice off the top section and use cheese scoop to dig out the central part, which is flavorsome and nutlike in taste. Port du Salut is an international cheese originating in France. It is now being made in many European countries and Canada. In the U.S.A., the Trappist monks in Kentucky fabricate this popular cheese. It is superb with apples, pears and grapes.

And what's the matter with Monterey Jack?

Best of all!

Consumer Power

More market research should be done to determine the types of advertising consumers find most helpful in making shopping choices, and advertising that consumers find objectionable should be dropped.

There have been studies that appear to prove that television commercials that are completely repulsive to the average viewer do imprint the name of the product in the viewer's mind – but, Mr. Advertiser, we do not appreciate it!

Many of us find the names of same advertisers – Xerox, for one – to be firmly and favorably imprinted in our minds – simply because they have the courtesy to present a television show uninterrupted by commercial messages.

The offering of refunds for trying products is one form of advertising that I would vote to preserve. It take the risk out of trying new products, and imprints the name of the product favorably in the consumer's mind.

Many people argue that it would be better to lower prices across the board instead of offering refunds to consumers. A good argument can be worked up for this point of view, it's true.

But think about it for a minute.

Do you always buy the brand that is the least expensive? Have you ever, as I have done, tried something new because the advertiser has offered a full purchase price refund, and found that it became a favorite brand? Would you have gotten around to trying the new product if you had not been exposed to the advertising and refund offer?

To be honest, it must be admitted that we are often lured to try new products, and are disappointed. If we can send in the boxtop, though, for a refund, we have had a nearly free trial. Without the refund offer, we would have lost completely.

I constantly use refunding as a form for my opinions of products. My comments have sometimes been answered by the president of the company, even though they were merely quick comments on a 3 x 5 sheet of paper.

We will be exploring all aspects of refunding in the next few weeks – how to find out what refund offers are running, how much money can be earned by refunding, what labels and boxtops to save all the time (They're as good as "silver"), how to save those labels without having them overflow the kitchen drawers, how to organize your refunding efforts for maximum efficiency and maximum earnings.

Is all this worth your time? After you've read the columns, you will have to decide that for yourself. It is certainly worth my while to have approximately 10% to 15% of my grocery expenditure returned to me by mail. And I consider myself a busy homemaker with many other interests. Now you can read and decide.

English walnuts originally came from Persia and have never been grown in England.

Ad Club meets for first time

More than 70 members and guests gathered last week for the first luncheon meeting of the new Advertising Club of the Monterey Peninsula.

Those attending were representative of the various media of press, radio and television as well as business owner advertisers. The event was held at The Shutters and was opened by a welcome from teh club's president, Ted Krough, and an endorsement from Monterey's mayor Al Madden.

Coming from the Bay area to speak at the evet were Rod Mays, vice president of the western region of the American Advertising Federation, and Richard Ryan of San Jose and Robert Shaw of Mountain View, both directors of the organization.

The three discussed the benefits for local and ad clubs to communities, citing examples of a drug abuse center in Honolulu, supported and publicized by the local advertising organization, and a consumer panel of housewives in San Jose that provides opinion on local product advertising.

Also discussed was the role of advertising clubs in relation to local and national legislation affecting the industry.

The new club will hold meetings twice monthly, with the next luncheon get together set for Tueady, Jan. 27. Robert K. Sherry of radio KIDD will speak on current trends in radio industry. Anyone desiring membership and who wishes to attend the meeting may call 373-2443 or write to Box 214, Monterey.

Salvation Army needs winter clothing

Cold, wet, winter weather places a two-fold drain on the local Salvation Army's Thrift Shops and on the men whose rehabilitation is supported by sales in the shops, according to Brigadier H. Salinsbury, manager of the Men's Social Service Center. in San Jose.

"Right now we face a real need for warm clothing for children and adults, and for blankets and other bedding. People in this community are suffering from the cold weather. Some children are unable to go to school because the have only flimsy, lightweight clothes. We are trying hard to fill the need, but we need donations of these items," Brigadier Sainsbury said.

There is always a continuing need, too, for repairable items of furniture, tools, and other large pieces. It is the repair and restoration of such things that forms the mainstay of the SA's work-therapy and rehabilitation program for the men who come for help.

"In the often dreary winter days, it is always harder to keep the men, who are struggling with mental and emotional problems, gainfully employed. The knowledge that they are doing honorable, useful work is highly important ot them.

"A telephone call will bring a red shield truck to pick up donated materials."

NEW PRO — Bill Henry is the new professional at the Del Monte Golf Course in Monterey. He formerly managed the pro shop at Pebble Beach.

TAKES OVER — Art Bell has been named manager of the Pebble Beach pro shop in the shifting of personnel resulting from Del Monte Properties assuming operation of the Del Monte Golf Course.

MERCHANDISER — Bob Brown, former manager of Roos Atkins Del Monte Center, has been named merchandise manager for the Pebble Beach pro shop.

Del Monte takes over Del Monte

On the even of the 29th Crosby, Del Monte Properties Company has announced it has assumed the management and operation of Del Monte Golf Course, Monterey.

Bill HEnry, formerly manager of the Pebble Beach proshop will be head professional. Henry will be responsible for directing play, cart rentals and maintenance, retail sales and tournament reservations.

Art Bell, P.G.A. professional at Pebble Beach, has assumed responsibility for the operation of the pro shop there. Bob Brown, past manager of Roos Atkins, Del Monte Center, has been retained by Bell as merchandise manager.

Del Monte, opened in the late 1800's, has been owned and operated by Del Monte Properties since the company was formed in 1919. Until 1920, the home of the California State Amateur championship, Del Monte is the annual site for several local tournaments, including the Monterey City Championship.

Plans call for a number of renovations at Del Monte this year. Roger Larson, manager of the company's golf course operations, has indicated that work will begin immediately to build roughs, improve the greens and tees and to add a number of fairway sand traps.

According to Larson and Henry, green fees and membership fees will remain the same in keeping with Del Monte's position as the most popular course on the Monterey Peninsula.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE

Elbow grease and imagination could turn this older home, located just THREE blocks from the BEACH and south of Ocean Ave., into a spectacular home. There's lots of room in this four-bedroom, three-bath abode, with a large living room and separate dining room. BEST of all there are two lots and the value of the lots would almost equal the ASKING price for the total improved property. As is price $47,500.

Or all three, in Pebble Beach yet! We have a very well built three-bedroom, two-bath home on a quarter-acre lot with plaster walls, hardwood floors, stucco exterior, brand new wall-to-wall carpets, and an open beam ceiling in the living room. It is freshly painted inside and out and ready to move into. The price: only $40,500.

Acreage

One of the best parcels of land in the lower Carmel Valley can now be purchased at the very reasonable price of $9,000 per acre. This 31-acre parcel is in the lower valley, it is flat, it fronts on two County roads, and it has all utilities, including a well for farming. It can be developed now or held for appreciation. Give us a call for details.

3 BEDROOMS AND GUEST HSE, 2 LOTS, $59,500

You'll like the house the minute you see it, and you'll like it even more when you step into the 30-foot, wood-paneled living room. It's in a top Carmel location on a corner with a southern exposure. There are 2 baths, a modernized kitchen, and a 2-room guest house with bath.

3 BEDROOMS, 3 BATHS, OCEAN VIEW, $69,500

This Hatton Fields home is in beautiful condition. It has 3 baths, dining area, den, double garage, and a very attractive garden. The house has a most spacious feeling and the outlook is outstanding.

2 BEDROOMS, 2 BATHS, OCEAN VIEW, $52,500

Both home and garden are informal and charming. Living room, dining room, and lanai are large and airy. The protected garden, with barbecue area, is an asset from inside as well as outside the house. And the view . . . well, why not let us show you this fine property.

2 BEDROOMS AND STUDIO – BLOCK TO BEACH

This tastefully remodeled home is in immaculate condition, and has a little ocean view, even. There's an attractive, detached studio. Location is the best. $49,500. Shown any time.

A FAMILY HOME IN HATTON FIELDS

4 bedrooms and 4 baths on North Hatton Road. The huge, new family room has bar and fireplace. And there's a separate dining room, as well. Large, beautifully planted garden. A very convenient location for Carmel High or school bus stop. $79,500. Shown any time.

If You Plan to Build in the 70's Consider Pebble Beach or the Country Club

CAYUSE ROAD

Top location in the Country Club area, level, well drained lot with lovely view of the ocean and Santa Cruz. Walking and easy cart distance to the club. It's in the area where "those in the know" like to live, and $19,000 is a very fair price.

HERMITAGE ROAD

Upper side of Hermitage, beautifully wooded with good possibilities for the ocean view if split level is built. Full set of plans available to buyer. About 2 minutes to the 17th fairway of the Shore Course and 4 minutes to the clubhouse by cart. Only $14,000.

LOS ALTOS

If you wnat a lot with a view of the entire Country Club area and Monterey Bay all the way to Santa Cruz, let us show you a handsome building site for only $15,000. Owners are moving to Mexico and want quick action. All cash is not required and subordination to qualified builder possible.

LOPEZ ROAD

This is a real find in the country club. On Lopez Road with secondary access on Strawberry. Quarter acre, well drained, ready right now to build. Close to club and golf courses. Price $9,800 cash; only a little more on terms.

SUNRIDGE ROAD

Quarter acre with great view over the tree tops toward Pt. Lobos. Best of all, easy access to Carmel and Monterey, and the price is just $15,000.

CYPRESS POINT AREA

A little over two acres in a protected, secluded area with beautiful trees. The fairways of Cypress, one of the loveliest views in Pebble Beach are yours to enjoy, as well as the ocean view around Fan Shell Beach. Price $32,500.

A PAIR OF LOTS ON COLTON

On a wide knoll, guaranteed protection from crowding; beautiful trees, filter view over the forest and the ocean; those are the things the owners fell in love with when they walked in the forest one day with their dog. Now they must go back to Scotland and their lots are available together or separately at just $15,250 each. Especially attractive for gregarious golfers who still want privacy and seclusion on their own lot.
